
BRENTWOOD NEIGHBORHOOD

CAMANO ISLAND, WA.

Home on the Island

Brentwood offers stunning views, elegant homes, and a welcoming, family-friendly community. Tree-lined streets, local parks, and nearby shops make it a neighborhood where residents love to live.

Coastal Charm

Brentwood, perched at the northern edge of Camano Island, offers residents the best of island living. Just minutes from Utsalady Bay, the neighborhood offers breathtaking waterfront scenery and easy access to a wide variety of outdoor activities. Well-maintained homes and lush lawns reflect the high quality of life found in this serene island setting.

Bayview Living

Just a short ten-minute drive from the mainland, Brentwood is nestled along the northern edge of Camano Island, just below the peaceful waters of Utsalady Bay. Residents enjoy a scenic journey home along the coastal road, with stunning views of Skagit Bay, Whidbey Island, and the surrounding island landscape.

Island Connections

Like much of Camano Island, Brentwood shines because of its residents. A vibrant community of neighbors-turned-friends makes this area lively, with regular gatherings and celebrations. Patios in Brentwood often buzz with conversation, laughter, and shared meals, all set against the breathtaking backdrop of Utsalady Bay's sparkling waters.
