
DRIFTWOOD SHORES

CAMANO ISLAND, WA.

Camano Island Beachfront Beauty

Driftwood Shores is a beautiful neighborhood nestled next to a pristine beach on Camano Island. This charming community offers an abundance of unique driftwood, adding to its natural allure. Located on the east side of Camano Island, these homes provide residents with breathtaking views of the water and the picturesque Pacific Northwest.

Beachfront Living

The beach at Driftwood Shores is a charming, relatively short stretch located on a small spit of land extending into the bay. This exclusive stretch features only one row of homes, fostering a tight-knit community where neighbors can easily connect and form lasting relationships. Experience a true Washington state beach with its distinctive gravel and small stones, offering a unique alternative to the typical sandy shore.

Premier Crabbing

Driftwood Shores is a premier location for crabbing and fishing enthusiasts. Many homes in this sought-after community feature their own mooring buoys, making it easy for residents to enjoy waterfront activities. Children growing up in Driftwood Shores frequently engage in sport fishing and a variety of outdoor activities, fully embracing the island's active lifestyle.

Hidden Treasures

Driftwood Shores offers an abundance of driftwood ideal for crafting small forts or structures. The beach is also a treasure hunter's paradise, with the rare chance to discover beautiful agates. Make sure to have a rock tumbler at home to polish and showcase your finds. If beachcombing isn't your preference, you can still enjoy the stunning natural beauty from your own backyard. Many homes come equipped with outdoor tables and firepits, perfect for savoring the gorgeous views.
